Accident Toll Jumps As Rain Hits Area

33 Injured in 49 Area
Mishaps on Weekend;
Highest in Months

Rainfall pavements and heavy weekend traffic sent the Quad-City traffic toll soaring upward to a new high in recent months. Authorities reported a total of 49 accidents in the area and said 33 persons were injured in 19 of these mishaps. The large number of multiple-injury accidents helped boost the toll.

Three persons were injured when an auto driven by Sharon Hartline, 25, of 2012 Russell street, collided with another driven by Betty L. Uhl, 18, of 2249 Grand avenue, at 3 p.m. Friday at 2428 East 24th street. Cars were parked on both sides of the street.

The Uhl girl was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital with a broken nose, chest pains and abrasions to both knees. Mrs. Hartline was treated for abrasions to her left knee and left forearm and for a back injury and was released. Her son, Freddie Hartline Jr., six, was treated for abrasions to his forehead and was released.

Mrs. Nora Homyer, 36, of 2605 Ponton road, was given emergency treatment Friday afternoon for neck and shoulder injuries suffered in a traffic accident at Third street and Madison avenue during a rainstorm. Police said Mrs. Homyer was driving north, and another car, driven by Estelle McBride, 1620 Second street, was traveling south and making a left turn.

Crash Injures 3
Three persons were injured about 2:25 p.m. Friday in a two-car accident caused by rain-slick pavement on State street at Eighth street. Given treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital were Mrs. Eliza Simons, 59, of Rural Route 1, driver of one auto, and a passenger, Mrs. Della Simons, 37, of 1132 Reynolds street. Both suffered neck and shoulder injuries.

The other driver, D. E. Wolfe, 26, of 2235 Byron avenue, sustained facial injuries, police said. Officers reported both vehicles were traveling south, and Mrs. Simons was slowing for (Continued on page 18, col. 1)

Same Pole Hit Twice by Cars During Weekend

Two motorists ran into the same utility pole in separate accidents in Venice during the weekend. One of them went to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment. The other went to jail on charges by both Venice and Madison police. The pole is splintered at the base but is still standing.

Venice police reported that Darrell E. Allen, 21, of 1247 Iowa street, Madison, skidded on rain-slick pavement at 8:40 a.m. Saturday at Madison avenue and Market street and struck the utility pole on the east side of the intersection. Police said Allen's car kept skidding after the impact and that Allen then drove away.

A few minutes later Madison police were called to 13th street and Madison avenue where Allen was found fighting with two other men who told officers they had tried to take him home. Police said Allen's car was found parked at 13th and Iowa streets. Venice police charged Allen with striking a fixed object and Madison police charged him with driving while intoxicated. Allen posted bond pending a hearing Oct. 2.

A car driven by Bruce A. Reilly, 42, Collinsville, crashed into the same utility pole at 2:20 a.m. yesterday at Madison and Venice police said Reilly's car was a total wreck and the impact splintered the pole and knocked down several power lines. Reilly was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was treated for a cut to his nose.

$12,500 Blaze Destroys GC Home

Family Away on Visit;
2 Firefighters Hurt
When Roof Collapses

Fire destroyed the 1½-story frame home of the Russell Staggs Jr. family, 2420 Edwards street, at 5 a.m. Saturday, just an hour after the family had left for a weekend visit in Missouri. Two firemen were injured in the 4½-hour battle to extinguish the blaze.

Damage was estimated at $8500 to the house and $4000 to the contents, and flames caused an additional $1000 damage to a two-story frame home next door owned by Joseph Poeling, 2416 Edwards street.

Firemen said the flames were blazing through the roof of the Staggs home as they arrived at the scene. A ceiling and the roof of the Staggs home fell in on Fireman Robert Stroehde, who was given emergency treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital for abrasions to his face, nail puncture wounds to his arms and a slight wrist harm. He returned to duty. Fireman George Nenninger suffered a shoulder injury which did not require emergency treatment.

Cause Undetermined
Cause of the blaze was not determined, but firemen believe it started in a downstairs closet in the seven-room house. Mrs. Staggs said all of the family's winter clothing was in the closet.

The Staggs lost all of their belongings, with the exception of a pet parakeet that escaped the flames and was carried out of the house by firemen about 7 a.m. A neighbor is looking after the bird.

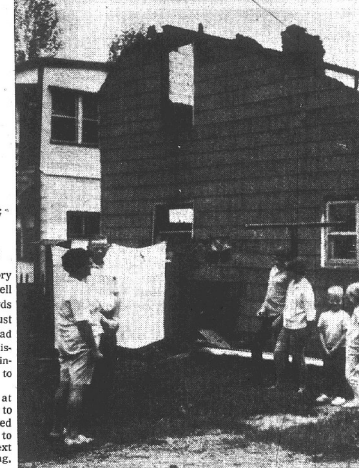

The family had gone on a 170-mile trip to Marion, Mo., near Sikeston, to visit Mr. Staggs' mother, Mrs. Gerrie Martin.

"We had been there only 10 minutes when a relative called to tell us about the fire. We came right back," Staggs told the Press-Record. He is employed as a truck driver for St. Louis Slag Co., and the family has lived in the house about three years.

Staggs and his wife, Hazel, and two of the four children living at home, Patricia, 10, and John, 8, had gone on the trip, while Wayne, 16, and Sharon, 14, stayed here with relatives.

The family plans to live temporarily with relatives or friends. The insurance company has agreed to pay for the loss of the family's belongings.

GC Clean Air Law to be Big Issue Tonight
Pros and cons of Granite City's recently amended air pollution ordinance are scheduled to be aired during tonight's city council meeting when Eighth Ward Alderman Ford Johnson is to present a new law based on control standards set by the state Air Pollution Control Board.

Henry Bineicki, chairman of the city's clean air board, told the Press-Record that he and several of the board members plan to attend tonight's 8 o'clock session.

How much time the council will spend on the topic depends on committee reports and other business included on a jam-packed, three-page agenda. The presentation by Alderman Johnson is listed under "new business" at the very end of the agenda, but there is a possibility that because of the intense interest in air pollution controls, Johnson may be able to get his presentation advanced on the agenda.

City Law Disputed
The city's amended air pollution control ordinance — disputed by industry representatives as being beyond the standards set by the state board for particulate and other business included on a jam-packed, three-page agenda. The presentation by Alderman Johnson is listed under "new business" at the very end of the agenda, but there is a possibility that because of the intense interest in air pollution controls, Johnson may be able to get his presentation advanced on the agenda.

Bineicki said the city's new ordinance is not contrary to standards devised by the recent Interstate Study "and are necessary if the city is to get the job done of cleaning the air." In opposing the new standards, Johnson has commented that they are much too stringent and could hamper the industrial and economic growth of the city.

At the time the amendments were approved last July 3, the presentation was made by Al C. C. Schell and Co., Altam accounting firm.

The circuit clerk suspended further investments and sold, said J. McGivern, assistant state's attorney, issued an oral opinion that the investments are contrary to state statutes.

Weekend's Rain -- 1.15-Inch Here

Rainfall over the weekend in the Quad-Cities was measured 1.15 inch on the gauge at the Chain of Rocks canal, bringing relief to the Quad-Cities from a two-month drought.

With this morning's readings for yesterday, the total rainfall for September now stands at 1.22 inch, or nearly half of the normal amount for the month—2.76 inches.

The rains started Friday with .15 inch, followed by .53 inch measured for Saturday and .47 inch for yesterday.

School Talks Pending

No further developments or meetings were reported today in negotiations between the Granite City school district and school secretaries who are members of Building Service Employees Local 58. Terms of an agreement with the group have not yet been completed.

To Settle Fee Question

The board Wednesday also is to settle the question of a 25-cent admission fee for persons entering the rink area as spectators. The proposal drew objections in the last board meeting on grounds that many parents will stop by the rink merely to pick up their children and that an admission fee would be unfair in such cases.

Pontoon Beach Water District Extends Service

A contract for installation of water line connections to residences in the Lenox subdivision at Pontoon Beach has been awarded to the W. J. Deisthorst Contracting Co. of Bunker Hill by the Pontoon Beach Water district. It was reported Friday by Andy Bukovac, president of the district.

Bukovac said the contract was awarded on an offer of $5307 for connection of existing water mains to 20 residential properties in the subdivision near the intersection of old U. S. Bypass 86 and Route 111.

Meanwhile, Bukovac said, developments in the district's proposal to install sanitary sewers in the Pontoon Beach area are awaiting completion of engineering studies by the Granite City firm.

City is Seeking $1,166,798 for Urban Renewal

Mitchell Youth Shot in Fight
Over Girl Friend

A Mitchell youth, 17, was shot and wounded by a 15-year-old juvenile at about 1 a.m. Saturday during a fight with another youth over a girl friend.

Admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital was Gerald Wilson, 220 Lennox avenue, with multiple wounds to his chest and arms. He was reported to be in satisfactory condition. The biopsy of his left arm were torn by the blast and surgery is scheduled today.

The fight, which occurred in the home of Charles Tilson Jr., 7014 Old Altan road, Mitchell, involved Ralph Edwards, 17, of 2128 Cayuga street.

Edwards apparently was not faring too well in the fight, according to the sheriff's office, who said the 15-year-old boy obtained a 12-gauge shotgun from a bedroom of the home. Edwards told the boy to shoot, and he did, the sheriff's office reported.

The two youths had a fracas over the girl friend a week before, sheriff's deputies said, and the argument continued. Edwards was released later Saturday by county authorities, without charge and the juvenile was held at the county jail for hearing today in juvenile court.

Portell Given Green Light on Fund Investment

Willard Portell, Madison county circuit court clerk, received full legal support on his investment policies in a written statement submitted today by State's Atty. Leon Scroggins.

Scroggins said that there is no statutory guideline nor court decision to prevent the investment of idle funds held in escrow by the circuit clerk.

He added that he would defend Portell in court if a law suit should be filed against Portell or the county.

Portell had been criticized on his investments of escrow funds, especially those held in escrow for the federal condemnation proceedings. The criticism was by an independent audit report last month by R. C. Schell and Co., Altam accounting firm.

The circuit clerk suspended further investments and sold, said J. McGivern, assistant state's attorney, issued an oral opinion that the investments are contrary to state statutes.

Portell currently has $105,543 on deposit at three Quad-City banks, some on short-term certificates, with the interest being deposited on grounds that many parents will stop by the rink merely to pick up their children and that an admission fee would be unfair in such cases.

Upon his return from Chicago, Mayor Partney said the four-block area will provide space for parking and revitalization of the downtown business district and for institutional buildings and parking in the expanding hospital area.

The four-block area designated for redevelopment includes—
The 1900 block of Grand avenue with the exception of commercial buildings along 19th street and along 25th street and one residential structure.

The east side of the 2000 block of Grand avenue and the west side of the 2000 block of Madison avenue. The west side of the 2000 block of Madison avenue and the east side of the 2000 block of Iowa street.

The surveys for the city were made by the firm of Harland Bartholomew & Associates, St. Louis.

Supporting letters for the Urban Renewal program were submitted by the school district, the hospital, the YMCA, the Illinois State Employment Service, the Tri-City Regional Port District, the Economic Opportunity Commission and the Chicago Board of Education.

Mayor Partney, who took the application to the Chicago regional office of HUD, said he expects to hear from the federal agency within the next several weeks. The mayor has long been an advocate of Urban Renewal to improve the older (Continued on page 15, col. 1)

United Fund 'Task Force' Paves Way for Volunteers

"Task Force UF" has completed its major work in preparing for the Oct. 2 start of the Quad-City Area United Fund campaign, it was reported today by M. B. Milonski, general chairman for the $384,000 drive.

The six-man task force was made up of executives on loan by their employers for special preparatory work in August and this month, in advance of the work to be started next month by several hundred volunteer solicitors.

Members of the special group were Bernard Henson of American Steel Foundries, Burney W. Simons of Dow Chemical Co., James Marsh of General Steel Industries, Donald J. Backer of Granite City Steel Co., Lt. Robert White of the Granite City Army Depot and E. Blankenship of A. O. Smith Corp.

Singly and in pairs they made advance contacts for both company and employee gifts for this year's campaign.

Volunteers were 20 contracting firms, 19 manufacturing firms and 24 trucking firms, along with special assignment work for the public services division. Milonski said the advance visits by the Task Force will speed up the work of the regular volunteers in making solicitations.

The timetable for this year's campaign is for United Fund Sunday to be observed Oct. 1, followed by the kickoff dinner at the YMCA on Oct. 2. The volunteer report meetings will be luncheon affairs on Wednesday—Oct. 11, 18 and 25 and Nov. 1 and Nov. 8.

The $384,000 goal this year is 6% higher than last year. A record-breaking $382,130 was raised in last year's campaign. The $384,000 is to provide 1968 (Continued on page 2, col. 5)

Skating Soon at Wilson Park Ice Rink -- Decision Due this Week

It won't belong until there'll be ice skating in the new pavilion rink at Wilson Park—probably within another month. A decision may be made at a meeting of the Park Board Wednesday night.

Major construction work on the structure itself has been completed and workers have begun the few jobs remaining to complete the rink interior. Park district officials, meanwhile, have wound up most of their work of acquiring equipment and supplies for operation of the rink.

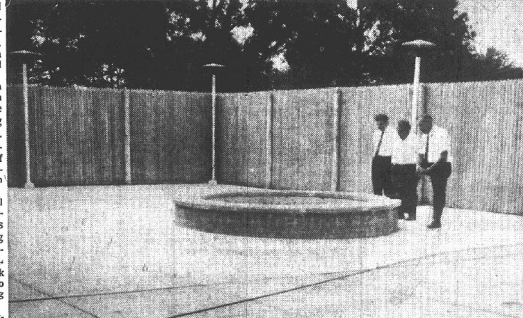

Three hundred pairs of rental skates are on order and probably will be delivered early this week. The skate sharpening unit also is on order with delivery due any minute, according to Harold Brown, Park district superintendent, who commented, "We're beginning to get anxious."

In fact, Brown added, "everyone is getting anxious."

Fence Goin' Up

The job of installing cyclone fencing around the rink got underway last week and the work of laying skate-tile floor edging the skating area and in the area adjoining the warm room will start as soon as the tile is delivered. Brown said the tile is on order with the Mitchell Rubber Products Co. of Los Angeles which has assured delivery next week. The tile was purchased through the Midwest Floor Co. of Granite City, lowest bidder with a $7000 offer.

Brown said it will take 93 square yards of tile to cover the patio and pavilion areas, with 648 square yards of the total used to surface the 40,000-sq.-yard rink has yet been determined by the Park Board.

While no specific date for opening the rink has yet been determined by the Park Board, the board expects to discuss the matter in its regular meeting Wednesday night. City Preparing To Seek Bids On Sewer Bonds

Preparations are under way to advertise for bids for sale of $150,000 revenue bonds for sanitary sewer construction. Mayor Partney announced Friday upon his return from a visit Thursday to the Chicago office of the federal Housing and Urban Development agency.

"There is a possibility that construction bids for the sewer lines in areas of North Granite and West Granite and sections of the Nameoki area can be sought in October," the mayor added.

The trip to Chicago was for further confirmation of the $150,000 federal grant to be used for the sanitary sewer installation and for the $300,000 project which will be a start toward city-wide separation of storm water and sanitary sewage.

"I had heard that the federal government was cutting the sewer grants and had done so in Cleveland, so I thought the trip to Chicago would be necessary to make certain Granite City will get the full amount."

"We were assured of the entire grant," the mayor explained.

He was accompanied to Chicago by the bond attorney, Horace Calvo; the project engineer, Edward Juneau of Shepard, Morgan & Schwaab; Special Sewer Committee members, Aldermen Edmund Bartosik, chairman, and Claude Green, and Leo Kunzen, local lawyer who aided the city in preparation of its application for the grant of federal tax funds.

Calvo is conferring with the bond consultant firm of Charles & Trauer, St. Louis, on the advertisement to seek bids for the revenue bond issue. Mayor Partney expects it to be ready in a week.

The revenue bond issue ordinance specifies a maximum interest rate of 6 1/2 percent, but that will be adjusted if bids are lower. The bonds are to be redeemed through collection of a $2.50 monthly rental charge paid by the users of the sanitary sewers.

General obligation bonds of $1,800,000 to match the federal funds will be issued by the city for the storm water-sanitary sewer separation. Plans for the project will be completed by mid-December and it is expected the construction bids will be sought in February.

Louis Sondergoth, Catholic chaplain at Alton State Hospital, and Al Trampe, president of the Madison County Mental Health Association, Edwardsville.

Program on Mental Health For Conference of Clergy

Program plans for the second day-long "Conference for Clergy on Mental Health" were announced by the sponsoring agencies today. It will be held Oct. 23 in the University Center Building of SIU-SW Campus from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Members of the program committee are Al Trampe, president of the Madison County Mental Health Association; Sherman Sklar, Ph.D., mental health Zone 7 psychologist; and Dr. Raymond Troyer, president of the Quad-City Ministerial Association. These agencies are sponsoring the conference.

Registration will be limited to 125 clergymen and interested persons, however, further information may be obtained by calling Trampe here TR 7-4600.

The program goal is aimed at presenting information concerning mental health treatment and facilities that are available to citizens of Madison county, and also, to familiarize clergymen with the numerous mental health problems.

Sklar has reported the following events scheduled for the conference. "A film will be shown during the morning session and principal speakers are: Don Tatro, Ph.D., Madison county unit chief of Alton State Hospital and Dewey Matthews, psychologist, Quad-City Mental Health Center, Granite City. Leaders for the afternoon program will place the persons attending into four groups, and they will be led by panelists who will cover the following topics: Family Problems, Judge William Johnson; Alcoholism, Dr. Milton Freedman, zone consultant to the Alcoholic Program, and Dick Clark, mental health educator and staff member of the Alcoholic Treatment Program at Alton State Hospital; Problems of Children and Adolescence, Ann Wilson, psychologist with Zone 7; and Pastoral Clinical Education, Protestant Chaplain Warren Wyrick, Alton State Hospital and Jerry Staten, director of Madison County Quad-City Mental Health Clinic, Granite City.

Additional professionals who will serve on the panels will be announced at a later date. A similar conference was held last spring in Belleville for clergy, and was sponsored by mental health agencies in St. Clair county.

The leaders are hopeful that this conference will spearhead interest into neighboring counties to institute programming of other meetings, to inform religious leaders of existing mental health facilities and their services.

American Steel Work Force Cut By 140 to 150

American Steel Foundries of Granite City is cutting its work force by 140 to 150 employees, A. P. Steinhauer, works manager of the plant, said today.

In addition, he said, one of the two open hearth furnaces will be taken out of production. Both the layoffs and the shut-down of one furnace will become effective today, Steinhauer said.

He attributed the cutback to receding business conditions, but declined to elaborate as to whether or not further work force reductions are contemplated.

American Steel Foundries produces railroad castings with a normal work force of about 1200 employees.

Yule Mail Call for Area Servicemen being Readied

Relatives and friends of Quad-City military personnel are invited to provide the serviceman or woman's name and address to the Press-Record for inclusion in "Yule Mail Call," a special pre-Christmas project sponsored by the newspaper.

To ensure accuracy, it is requested that names and addresses be sent in by letter or post card or the information brought to the Press-Record office, 1615 Delmar avenue.

Those submitting the serviceman's name, rank, serial number and correct address, are asked to identify themselves on the post card, letter or slip of paper in event verification of unit abbreviations is required.

Army Post Office (APO) and Fleet Post Office (FPO) numbers must be included when applicable. When area of overseas service is noted, the information will appear in parenthesis after mailing address.

The names and addresses will be published as they become available, enabling relatives and friends to add the GIs and other military personnel to their mailing lists. Last year, more than 525 names of servicemen appeared in 20 Press-Record issues.

Many servicemen expressed their appreciation for the newspaper and to individuals and groups who utilized the lists to send Christmas greeting cards, letters or parcels to the men.

Early publication of names and addresses is necessary to guarantee delivery prior to the Christmas holidays. Deadline dates for overseas and home mailing will be announced as soon as information is available from postal authorities.

One of the first names to be submitted to the newspaper came last week from a Collinsville couple, who wrote their son, Marine Pfc Tom Hanneman, was employed at the Granite City Army Depot commissary prior to entering the service. He is now with the First Marine Division in Vietnam.

"Tom has many friends in Granite City and we hope you will include his name in your 'Yule Mail Call.' We think it's a great idea," the letter wrote.

"Yule Mail Call" was suggested by the wife of a former local serviceman who was stationed on Okinawa at this time last year.

It is hoped the Christmas service will help to cheer military personnel who are away from their homes and families during the coming holiday season. The results of the regulations will be published at a later date.

Bricklayers Sue Bank For $10,000 Over Loss

Bricklayers Local 68 of Granite City filed suit for $10,000 last week in Madison county circuit court against the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank.

The union claims it suffered the loss of the money by way of forged checks cashed on its vacation and operation fund accounts by the bank and that they were signed by an unauthorized person.

The complaint alleges that the local had provided the bank with signature cards of employees and officers authorized to draw on the accounts, but that the bank disregarded its duty by accepting checks amounting to $10,000 between Nov. 14, 1964, and Oct. 31, 1965.

The union claims that the forgeries were not discovered until about Dec. 1, 1965, and that the bank was notified of the forgeries. It alleges the bank has refused to reimburse the amount.

During the period the local had $28,783 on deposit. Union officers listed in the complaint are Arthur Evenden, president, and Paul Zupan, business agent.

LIFE...
NEW LIFE

The best of computers never could have predicted the effect of Martin Luther's hammer blows on the Wittenberg church door 450 years ago on October 31.

Prospects for this radical young priest to achieve anything significant were slim. But his insights, his principles, his beliefs remain alive. They are more alive than ever before in this age of fresh air entering through opened windows.

This Reformation anniversary year emphasizes the theme LIFE—NEW LIFE. It means that life moves toward death but does not stop. Death is transition. Those who know Jesus Christ look forward to life in the fullest sense.

The apostle John put it this way: "In Him was life, and the life was the light of men."

What the Reformation message keeps trying to explain. Are you listening?

Labor Seminar
Set at SIU-SW

Early registration is being urged for persons wishing to attend a three-day seminar on labor early next month at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern Campus.

Norman Johnson, assistant professor of earth sciences who heads the program, said reservations should be placed quickly so that accommodations can be completed by Oct. 5, when the event starts.

Johnson said brochures containing the registration form have been distributed to unions in the two-state metropolitan area for further circulation among officials and agents early next week.

Scheduled as a prelude to a large-scale educational program on labor, beginning this fall at the campus, the seminar will feature several national leaders in the fields of labor and government. All details on the event have not been worked out however, Johnson stated.

Both the seminar and the courses will be geared to the interest of union officials and agents. Further information or forms can be obtained by contacting Johnson through the Labor Institute, Southern Illinois University-Southwestern Camp.

ABOUT THIS QUESTION:

"Fire insurance can never replace the treasured and unique personal belongings lost in a fire—such as photographs, keepsakes, family jewelry, heirlooms and collector's items. It is 'fire prevention' the answer, by erecting a flameless rubbish and by insulating all heaters and hot pipes from wood partitions."

Trojans Rally to Win Opening Game, 14-12

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

Rain soaked fans and players alike, but the spirits of the Madison Trojans were undampened as they earned a satisfying 14-12 victory over O'Fallon in their season opener Friday night on the Madison high school football field.

Mist and rain continued throughout the game, making it uncomfortable for the many hundreds of fans who endured the weather, but both teams recorded respectable yardage in both runs and passes.

However, O'Fallon's brand new varsity team lost four fumbles to the Trojans, two, offsetting the Trojans' 90-40 disadvantage in yards lost due to penalties.

Madison completed four of nine passes for 85 yards and rushed for 140 yards, a grand total of 225. O'Fallon connected on seven of 12 passes for 62 yards and ran for 136 yards, a grand total of 288 yards gained.

Other statistics also were comparatively even. Madison garnered six first downs to O'Fallon's seven and averaged 33 yards with six punts while the visiting Panthers were averaging 34 yards on seven punts.

TD Pass to Weston

Madison struck paydirt first when Quarterback Jim Scott hit Halfback Tom Weston with a 30-yard pass and Weston ran the remaining five yards for a first-quarter touchdown. Less than two minutes of the game were required for the Trojans to get on the scoreboard.

Fullback Titus Shipp had run 55 yards on the first play of the game, only to lose possession on a fumble, but almost immediately recovered an O'Fallon fumble, setting the stage for the TD pass play. Harold James kicked the extra point.

It was then Madison's turn to kickoff, and Vince Ancell returned the ball from the Trojans' 25 to his team's 48, breaking several tackles.

With Ancell carrying on most of the plays, O'Fallon drove to the two-yard-line, from where Dave Garrison dove across for a TD.

A kick for the point after touchdown went wide of the goalposts and the Trojans led, 7-6.

Penalties Take Lead

In the second quarter, the ball was jarred from the hands of Panther runners, several times but they were able to fall on it themselves. The slippery ground was blamed for part of their problems, plus the experience of a team that had never before met a varsity opponent.

Madison also encountered difficulty in maintaining its turn-of-momentum.

Late in the second period, End Joe Collins ran for an apparent Madison touchdown but the ball was called back to the 18 because of an offside penalty.

With 18 seconds left on the clock, Quarterback Ancell, deep in his own territory, picked up his own fumble and ran 81 yards for the second O'Fallon score and a 12-7 halftime lead.

Fumble Sets Up Touchdown

Again striking fast to score within the first two minutes of the second half, Madison took the lead to stay after Willie Ackers recovered an O'Fallon fumble and ran 14 yards to the enemy 24.

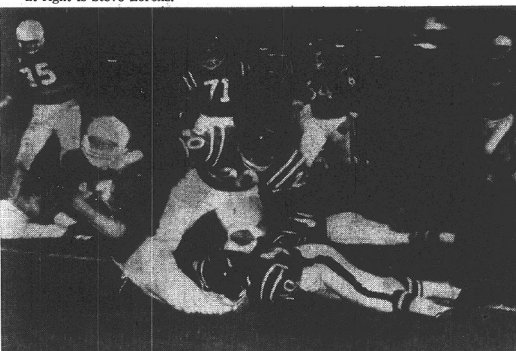

Scott immediately passed to Collins and it bounced to Weston, who plunged into the end zone to chalk up his second TD of the game. James again converted the extra point to provide a two-point margin for Madison.

The Trojans stopped the last Panther threat when O'Fallon fumbled on the Madison 30 with less than a minute left to play. Bert Armour recovered the ball after a pickoff to a Panther halfback, who lost possession as he was tackled.

Shipp gained 115 yards in 18 carries to pace the Trojan running attack. On defense, he made several key stops and intercepted two passes.

Madison's next foe will be Western Military Academy of Alton here Friday night.

UNCERTAIN POSSESSION of the pigskin is maintained by End Joe Collins (51) of Madison as O'Fallon tackler grabs him during Friday night's 14-12 Trojan victory on the MHS field.

Warriors Capture 5 of First 6 Places in Run

The Granite City high school cross-country team brought home its second victory of the year Thursday night when it defeated O'Fallon 20-42 at the O'Fallon Park. The season record is 2-1.

Coach Richard Harmon was pleased because the first six GCIS runners reached the wire only 10 seconds apart. Such grouping is necessary for a team to be effective.

Sophomore Rick Rose barely missed getting first place in the meet. He crossed the line a half-step behind the leader, an O'Fallon runner, in 9:48. The O'Fallon course is a mile and nine-tenths long, and the time was called "excellent." All runners bettered their times of last Tuesday's meet.

Richard Hull was third in 9:57; Gary Oxford, fourth in 10:00; Mike Weiser, fifth in 10:04; Mike Burris, sixth in 10:05; and Tom Niebur, eighth in 10:07.

Granite City will have its next meet here at 4 p.m. Tuesday against Wood River.

Warriors Lead Twice, Tie Cahokia 13-13

Twice taking the lead, the football Fighting Warriors of Granite City high school had to settle for a 13-13 tie in the opening game of their 1967 season Friday night at Cahokia.

An initial victory now will be their goal this Friday when they play host to Belleville East.

Close throughout, Friday's contest kept fans on the edge of their seats except when they were standing to cheer. Concentration was at its height when the Comanches scored the tying touchdown late in the game and then lined up for an extra point. Kick that could have won for Cahokia.

Defensive Tackle John Hornert, a 206-pound senior, aided by Ron Sheppard, blocked the ball to avoid a defeat for the Warriors, who subsequently lost possession on a fumble. Ron regained the ball and were advancing toward the enemy goal-line when time ran out.

Passing Game Clicks Outperforming Cahokia in passing, the Warriors traded in running, total yardage and first downs but managed to keep the Comanches in their territory for much of the game.

Had it not been for the second of three fumbles, GCHS could have brought home a victory despite a 196-138 disadvantage in yards gained. Cahokia avoided fumbling and also avoided pass interceptions while making one Warrior aerial.

Granite City netted 42 yards in the air and 94 on the ground to Cahokia's 39 yards passing and 119 yards rushing. GCHS completed four of eight passes to the Comanche's two of three and punted twice for an average of 48 yards to Cahokia's three punts and average of 25 yards. The Warriors were penalized 40 yards and Cahokia 28.

It was a see-saw battle in the first quarter until GCHS scored with a minute and 25 seconds left.

Salitch Leads Drive
The Warriors had taken the opening kickoff. Ron Laws returned it to the 24, and Fullback Dave Salitch gained 25 yards in five carries as two first downs were recorded. Cahokia took over on a fumble but was held inched, with Ron Sheppard running it back from the Warrior 48 to the Comanche 29.

Quarterback Dave Snelson connected on a 25-yard pass play to End Jim McCar. With first and goal to go on the third quarter, the Warriors called several running plays, with Laws carrying the one.

Sneak Produces TD
Snelson then scored on a quarterback sneak on fourth down. A place kick by Roger Belshie failed and the score stood 6-0. Following the kickoff, Cahokia moved to its 38 before the quarter ended.

On the opening play of the second quarter, Quarterback Tom Rachels pitched the ball to Fullback Skip Bailey, who cut inside, broke free and would have tackled and scampered 62 yards for a touchdown. Mike Darnell kicked the extra point to put the host team ahead 7-6.

Long Kick by Laws
GCHS received, was held and punted. Ron Laws booted the ball 51 yards in the air. Bailey broke loose for what appeared to be a 77-yard TD run, but it was nullified by a clipping penalty against Cahokia at its 16-yard line.

Neither team scored in the third quarter. The Warriors moved to the enemy six on off-side penalties and runs by Snelson, Salitch and Laws.

As the final quarter began, Laws and Salitch advanced the ball to the one-yard line, from where Laws dived over on the fourth down, 11th play since GCHS had taken possession. Belshie's kick put GCHS ahead 12-7.

Cahokia received on its 30 and gained only three yards on a series of plays. But when a Cahokia punter, the Warriors were called for roughing the kicker, resulting in a 15-yard penalty and a first down. Steve Ott Cahokia March to Halfback Jim Williams, as Cahokia drove for a first down on the Warrior nine and then fourth down with four yards to go. Bailey ran and was pushed out of bounds with no gain. With only three and half minutes left, the Warriors tried to add to their lead, but a back carrying the ball fumbled on third down and Cahokia's Scott Anderson recovered on the Warrior 10.

John Walker immediately passed to Tony Robinson for the tying TD and Hommert's heroics followed. Snelson finished the game with a four-for-seven passing record, Belshie throwing the other aerial.

Laws handled the punting, and he, McCar and Ralph Burnett shared the pass catching duties. Laws snaring two and the others one each. Salitch carried 13 times for 36 yards, Laws 10 for 11 yards, Snelson four for nine yards, Bradford three for seven yards, Sheppard once for three yards and Dave Mullenix twice for a net loss of two yards.

$10,000 Grant for GC Gifted Pupil Program

Word was received today that the Granite City school district will receive a $10,000 state grant to aid developing its educational program for gifted children.

Findings of the local project will be utilized by other school systems in planning more challenging instruction for pupils who are unusually gifted or talented.

Directed by Mrs. Sara Sowell, gifted program consultant of the school district, the work will include development of curriculum and checklists and methods of reporting to parents for non-graded elementary schools. She will cooperate with the Department of Program Development for Gifted Children, Division of Special Education Services, Office of Public Instruction.

Supt. Ray Page today praised the school board, Supt. Bob J. Davis and County Supt. Wilbur Trimpe for their efforts to improve teaching of the gifted and in other ways advance "the betterment of public education in this state." At present, 68% of Illinois districts have state-related programs for gifted students.

The Tri-City Bar Association is keeping in close touch with a current debate in the Illinois legislature over repeal or funding of the revised state inheritance tax, the Press-Record learned Friday from Attorney Lance Callis, president.

The possible impact on the families of the more than 500 Quad-Cityans who die in an average year will be discussed by the Bar Association this month, at the Sept. 23 session before the next meeting.

Illinois Attorney General William Clark told a joint session of the General Assembly last week that inheritance tax provisions enacted during the regular 1967 session should be repealed in the current special session, or another $1,600,000 should be appropriated to administer the tax.

May Act This Week
Each mention of possible repeal drew rounds of applause during a four-and-a-half-hour review of the issue. Legislators may consider the revised tax this week.

Rep. John W. Lewis (R, Marshall) said he is preparing bills to restore the inheritance tax to its original form. Introduced in the last five days of the regular session, the revision is intended to produce an estimated $32,700,000 during the remaining 21 months of the current two-year fiscal period and a larger sum in future bienniums.

Predicts Probate Backlog
Clark warned that, if he is not given the additional money to administer the inheritance tax, "probate procedures will be backed up over all 102 counties of the state, safety deposit boxes will be tied up, widows won't be able to bury their husbands and survivors won't be able to get money out of their savings accounts."

Apparently, an effort will be made to restore the $100 exemption to cut down on the workload of the inheritance tax division.

Clark is seeking the money for 131 additional employees, including 83 full-time employees, to beef up the present inheritance tax division, which is composed of 68 full-time employees and 70 assistant attorneys general scattered throughout Illinois.

"The legislature could in its wisdom repeal this law," Clark said, adding that he would support such a move. But he urged legislators not to leave the law as it is without giving him the deficiency appropriation he has requested.

It appeared that Republicans leaders of the House and Senate were preparing amendments to the inheritance tax law, and will not be willing to give Clark all that he has asked for in extra funds.

However, the GOP-controlled Illinois Budgetary Commission declined to take immediate steps, and put off until today recommendations as to how much should be appropriated.

Changes Outlined
The main changes in the inheritance tax adopted by the legislature this year would make taxable:

1. Insurance payable to a named beneficiary. There is a specific exemption of $20,000 for insurance for a surviving spouse and an exemption of $5000 for insurance passing to a minor child.

2. Assets held in joint tenancy between a deceased person and a surviving tenant, except to the extent that the survivor can show he contributed to the tenancy.

Effect on Widows
Callis said he does not favor the new insurance and joint tenancy taxes, particularly to the extent that they would affect widows, but he is not convinced that the probate turmoil will be as bad as pictured.

At present, releases are obtained from the attorney general's office in three to five days, he estimated.

"Attorney General Clark is closer to the situation, of course, and it is possible that problems could develop. "We're keeping informed on the subject and will discuss it further," Callis commented.

EXTERIOR VIEW of new 115 by 220-foot pavilion housing ice skating rink at Wilson Park. Rink may be opened next month. Skating area is 85 by 185 feet, will accommodate 524 skaters at one time under national rink space standards. Skating area provides 15,725 square feet. Entrance to building is shown at extreme right.

the floor rapidly, caused frosting condition that later melted. Wiring installation for compressors is being completed this week.

MORE ABOUT Skating Soon

through the many miles of piping imbedded in the concrete rink floor. The refrigeration unit was tested last week, and frosting was reported.

It will take about a week to freeze the skating surface to a required thickness of three-quarters to one and one-quarter inch, Brown said. The rink floor will be iced, Brown explained, through a series of spraying processes.

Once the refrigeration units have cooled the cement floor surface to a temperature ranging from 8 to 14 degrees, water will be sprayed over the floor and permitted to freeze. When it has frozen, another finely sprayed covering of water will be applied, with the process repeated until the ice is built up in layers.

An ice resurfacing vehicle known as a Zamboni has been delivered at a cost of $10,500. It picks up excess ice loosened by skaters and replenishes the surface with a new, thin layer of water. This operation requires about 25 minutes.

Manager to Start Oct. 1
Final administrative procedure also is being worked out by park officials. The rink operation will be managed by J. H. "Buck" Kenner, a retired independent oil distributor, who was appointed to the position a month ago. Kenner has been visiting skating rinks in the Midwest to become informed on the problems and demands of operating an ice rink. Kenner will start working full time Oct. 1.

The park board has confirmed a schedule of skating fees set up last January under a plan that will offer lesser fees to residents of the park district because, as Barry Loman, park district board president, put it, "they are the ones who are paying the taxes."

For residents, the adult admission fee will be 75 cents, and the fee for children through high school age will be 35 cents; for non-residents, the charge will be $1.25 for adults and 60 cents for children.

Skates will be sharpened at a cost of 50 cents for hockey skates and 75 cents for figure skates. Skate rentals will be 50 cents. Brown said the 300-state order placed with the C.C.M. firm of Buffalo, New York, includes 100 pairs of skates for children, men and women, in varying sizes. He noted that blades for the rental skates are made in Canada. The skates will be assembled by the C.C.M. before they are shipped here.

Identification Cards

To avoid confusion over residential requirements, rink operators will issue an identification card to youngsters through high school age. This not only will prevent outsiders from slipping through at the lesser admission cost, but will present a means of controlling chronic troublemakers by taking up their cards for offensive action.

With the exception of laying tile and cleanup work, the warming room area is practically complete. Equipment for the concession lanes has been installed and furnishings have been delivered.

Brown said a system of entering the warming room from the north end of the rink and leaving the warming room to enter the rink at the south end has been devised to avoid congestion of skaters going to and from the warming room and concession stands. Doors at the north end of the warming room open inward, and those at the south end open outward.

Landscape, Sodding

Landscape, sodding and walk construction has been under way during the past few weeks. The area immediately surrounding the pavilion building has been sodded, with other

Left to right are — Barry Loman, park board president; William Kozyak, commissioner, and Harold Brown, park superintendent. Concession stands are located in warming room.

A daily schedule of skating sessions and periods of instruction has been completed and will be put into use as soon as the rink is opened. Skating at the rink should continue for about four or five months during the fall and winter period. Brown has pointed out. During the summer months, with the ice melted off the cement floor, the pavilion can be used for community events, reunions and other gatherings.

Park District Plans Trip To Ozark's Black River

A special one-day excursion into the scenic Black River region of southeastern Missouri's Ozark Highland country is being arranged for Sunday, Oct. 15, under the auspices of the Granite City park district.

Excellent response to the park district's experimental bus trip into the eastern Ozark area last fall has prompted the second excursion, Harold Brown, park superintendent, said today. "We have received several calls inquiring whether a similar trip could be planned for this autumn," he added.

This year's all-day tour will take the excursionists into the picturesque Ozark Highlands, near Taum Sauk Mountain — the highest point in Missouri, an area which is noted for its high hills, deep narrow valleys and attractive lakes, clear streams and springs.

Accommodation aboard the three buses will be limited to 135 persons, Brown said. Reservations may be made by calling the park office, at TR 7-3550, prior to Oct. 10. The park official pointed out that last year's trip was completely sold out some time before the deadline date.

Cost per person will be $5, including round-trip transportation and Sunday dinner at the Black River Lodge, a well-known resort facility near Lester, Mo. Tips and taxes also are included in the $5 charge, Brown commented.

Boarding the buses at 9 a.m. Oct. 15, at the 27th and State street entrance to Wilson Park, the tour-goers will proceed south on Interstate 55 to Festus and Crystal City, Mo., take Highway 67 to Desloge and south on Highway 32 to Caledonia, then via Highway 21 to Hodgen and Highway 49 to Lester.

Most of the route will take the excursionists off the heavily-traveled roads through some SEPTEMBER BRIDE. Mrs. Vasil Vangel (Marcella Elaine Bero). Her wedding took place Saturday morning at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Madison.

Marcella Elaine Bero Bride of Vasil Vangel

Miss Marcella Elaine Bero, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Bero, 1829 Fourth street, Madison, became the bride of Vasil J. Vangel, son of Mrs. Josephine Vangel, 1729 Maple street, and the late Pondo Vangel Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. The wedding took place at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Madison.

Rev. Fr. Sylvester Micek officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Helen McGarran, organist, accompanied Mrs. Valerie Stevens, soloist, who sang "Now Join By God," "Panis Angelicus" and "On This Day O Beautiful Mother."

The bride was escorted down the white-carpeted aisle by her father.

She wore a traditional gown of Chantilly lace with a sash, neckline, long pointed sleeves and a tiny nipped-in bodice atop a bouffant skirt with panel front and tier upon tier of ruffles around the sides, sweeping into a peacock train.

Her silk illusion veil was formed of four tiers, secured to a band of lace, roses and leaves and outlined with pearl and crystal beads. She carried a crescent bouquet of ivy and baby's mums centered with two orchids.

All of the attendants were dressed in long gowns of silk chiffon. Each had a bodice of chiffon, a portrait neckline, three-quarter-length sleeves, a belted Empire waistline and A-line skirt. The back of each gown had a mantle coat train falling from the shoulders to the hemline, with satin bows at the shoulders.

The maid of honor was in peacock blue and the bridesmaids wore three tiers of shoulder-length tulle secured with ribbon bows, and carried satin fans with tipped carnations matching the gowns.

A forward headpiece of lace etched with pearls and crystals held in place a tiered veil of illusion, and the bride carried an off-side cascade of white roses, stephanotis and variegated ivy with a white orchid corsage in the center tied with green and white satin ribbon.

Miss Sheila Diak, a cousin of the bride, maid of honor, Miss Phyllis Boskoff, another cousin, and Mrs. Peter Kraus, bridesmaids, were dressed alike in strawberry red silk with square necklines and short sleeves.

Fullness in the back fell to the hemlines of the long A-line skirts, and all three wore matching headpieces with tiny veils and carried cascades of pink carnations and variegated ivy tied with pink satin ribbon.

Jean Marie Diak, a cousin of the bride, and Dennis Partney, the bridegroom's nephew, served as flower girl and ring bearer. The former wore a long dress of white lace with puff sleeves enhanced at the rounded neckline with tiny rosebuds. Donald Partney Jr. was best man for his brother, and Daniel Partney, another brother, Robert Thomas, William Morris Jr., the bride's brother, and Jon Lustmeyer made up the list of groomsmen and ushers. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Morris selected a two-piece imported knit dress of fern green, the top band beaded with tiny pearls. Accessories matched the dress. Mrs. Donald Partney sr. wore a beige reem-broidered lace dress and off-white accessories. Both wore cymbidium orchid corsages.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the KC Hall, and the newlyweds left later for a honeymoon trip. When they return they will reside in Granite City. Miss Connie Isaak presided over the guest list for the reception.

The bride, a graduate of the Granite City high school, is employed by the Madison county circuit court in Edwardsville. Mr. Partney was graduated from the local schools and attended Southern Illinois University. He is manager of the Granite Sheet Metal Works, Inc.

The rehearsal dinner was given Friday evening by the bridegroom's father at the Rose Bowl.

A number of out of town guests were here for the wedding.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT R. CARTER. Their wedding was an event of Saturday evening taking place at Second Baptist Church. The bride, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Grote, 2420 Illinois avenue, is the former Barbara Jean Grote.

Miss Barbara Jean Grote, Robt. R. Carter are Wed

Miss Barbara Jean Grote became Mrs. Robert R. Carter in a ceremony taking place Saturday evening at Second Baptist Church. The Rev. Ralph Craycraft officiated at 7:30.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Grote, 2420 Illinois avenue. Mr. Carter's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carter, 5450 Genevieve street, St. Louis.

Mr. Grote gave his daughter in marriage. The sanctuary was decorated with arrangements of pink gladioli and white 'mums and burning candles in brass candelabra illuminated the scene.

Mrs. Norman Grote, a sister-in-law of the bride, presided at the organ and accompanied the vocalist, Miss Linda Mathis, a cousin of the bride, as she sang "O Promise Me," "My Wonderful One" and the Lord's Prayer.

The bride wore a gown of white organza with an oval neckline encircled with Venice lace, a fitted bodice and short sleeves shirred with lace motifs. A Watteau train, chapel length, fell from the shoulders and a tiered veil of illusion was held in place with a fabric rose and pearl sprays. White roses and stephanotis were combined in the bride's cascade bouquet which was centered with a corsage.

The attendants were Mrs. Bill Rhoades, matron of honor, and Miss Donna Hutchings, a cousin of the bride, bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of velvet and crepe. The Empire bodices were of red silk velvet with bateau necklines and long fitted sleeves were cuffed at the wrists with velvet. The corseted skirts of petal pink crepe had Watteau panels starting at the waistlines and flowing to the hems which were edged with matching red velvet. Velvet bows and brief bouffant veils formed their headpieces and they held round boules of pink carnations and red Sweetheart roses intermingled with greenery.

The bride's mother wore a pink gown, decorated the luncheon tables, together with miniature ceramic ring boxes which served as favors. Corsages of blue and gold carnations were presented to the brides.

Games were played after the installation and a number of prizes were awarded. Mrs. Mooshegan received the attendance prize, a floral centerpiece.

The chapter will hold a "wellfare brunch" Saturday in the Buente home for the benefit of the pediatric ward at St. Elizabeth Hospital, and a business meeting is scheduled for Oct. 10 in the home of Judith Whitaker.

How to Figure Your Net Worth

by Ernest A. Karandjoff
President
Granite City Trust and Savings Bank

You and Your Money

Do you know your net worth? It's an important question to ask ourselves once a year because our net worth tells us what our money policy should be for the coming year.

Your net worth figure shows you whether you are gaining or losing financial progress. You must do it with a pencil and paper, not in your head. You see, you may have less cash in the bank than last year and still have a higher net worth.

Under assets, list all you now have in savings and checking accounts. Also cash-on-hand in the house. Here also, count the cash value of your insurance policies. Net face value. The cash value is what you would get if you cashed in your insurance policy today.

Now add the market value of any stocks and bonds you own. If these are not in your newspaper, ask your broker. On government bonds, present value, not maturity value.

Next . . . in the same column list any amounts you have invested in pension or retirement programs. Next add the value of any business partnership. Add the value of your house and lot or other real estate.

On this next one you must be honest with yourself . . . your personal property: furniture, automobile, rug, jewelry, household appliances. Be sure to list the market value of each item . . . not the sentimental value.

For financial assistance and banking services, you are invited to consult with Mr. Karandjoff or any of the other officers at Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, 1809 Edison Avenue.
HOURS: 9:00 to 2:00 MONDAY thru THURSDAY
FRIDAY 9:00 to 1:00 AND 4:00 to 7:00 Telephone TRiangle 6-1212

Now add up the left hand column. Probably a pleasant surprise, isn't it?

Now start the Liability column. Write down the total amount yet due on your mortgage, any amount due on your car, your furniture, any installment plan purchases, or promissory notes. Don't forget to include your annual church pledge.

Total the column. Now subtract the right hand column from the left. The remaining figure is your net worth.

What does that figure mean to you? For one thing, it instantly tells you your borrowing ability. It's a credit evaluation. It's an important figure in your estate planning. By comparing it with last year's net worth, you know how much you have progressed . . . or the reverse.

If the results are disappointing, you're still ahead for facing the facts so you can change your financial course. If the results are good, you can now take advantage of your favorable financial position, perhaps by investing in securities, in education, or . . . just more living.

Winston Churchill once said, "Many an admiral has lost a battle . . . because he didn't know he was winning."

9 Units Added in Roundup Of Cubs, Scouts, Explorers

The fall roundup of the Boy Scouts of America is in full swing in the Quad-Cities, John Drevos, organization and extension chairman, announced at the September meeting of the Unihw district board Thursday night at the Elks club.

New members are being added to existing scouting units, and more cub packs (8-10 age group), scout troops (11-13) and explorer posts (14-17) are being formed, he reported.

Frank Kraus, assistant to the superintendent of Granite City schools, has accepted appointment as roundup chairman and school representative on the district board.

Fun, Adventure Skills
In urging active support by parents and potential sponsoring institutions, Drevos commented, "The fun and adventure of scouting are important to every boy. But the important value to his parents is that the games, the skills and the competition are the means to the end of fitness, character and citizenship development."

Newly-organized units include Pack 91, Pack 93, Troop 91 and Troop 93, Madison Neighborhood Service Chapter; Pack Nine, Troop Nine and Post Nine, Granite City Housing Authority; Troop Seven, St. Joseph's Catholic Church, and Pack 10, Pontoon Church of Christ.

Aiding in the current enrollment is a "new look" in cub scouting, Edwin Menke Jr., Unihw (Quad-City) district scout executive, reported.

Cub Program Improved
"Major improvements in the cub scout program will go into effect this month after a five-year study, and the revisions are expected to increase cub scouting's natural appeal for boys and provide more help for volunteer leaders."

"The cub scout program was formally launched in 1930, and the last major changes were made in 1952," Menke explained. "The 1967 revisions will be explained to all cub scout pack leaders in training sessions this fall."

"Highlights will include a new and different experience for 10-year-old cubs, the Webelos program; a new leadership position of den leader coach; revisions of achievements and elections in the advancement program so that the eight-year-old Wolf and nine-year-old Bear advancement patterns are no longer so similar; recognition through registration of assistant den mothers; and provision for a boy to enter cub scouting any time after he is eight years old or in the third grade."

"The new Webelos program is based on 15 hobby and vocational subjects called activity badge areas. The Webelos den leader will be a man, and meetings will be held weekly. There will be a broader outdoor program than for the younger cub scouts, but not including the rugged activities reserved for Boy Scouts."

The FORUM

URGENT LARGER GC STAFF FOR CLEAN AIR CONTROL

To the Editor:

Early in July the city council of Granite City expressed a gratifying interest in air pollution abatement by unanimously passing an ordinance to update the rules and regulations on air pollution.

On Aug. 8, 1967, in a meeting with the local board, Mr. Klasken of the State Air Pollution Board stated that Granite City should now get a full-time air pollution staff.

He made it crystal clear that the state could not be expected to do the job for local communities.

The state's role in air pollution control is to encourage local efforts, give technical support, monitor local programs for effectiveness, and establish minimum standards.

Nevertheless, the Granite City council has shown an undue lack of interest in hiring an adequate staff.

In view of the vital role of the public, it would seem that the local officials would actively seek the support of the people they serve. Moreover, since we are in a common air shed, the stand of the Granite City council in this matter is of concern to everyone in the metropolitan area.

Strong rules and regulations are only as good as the enforcement staff.

Hundreds of individuals and numerous public organizations in the Tri-Cities area have joined the clean air movement.

Responsible Labor-Management Image Expands Jobs, Income

By OSCAR A. EHRLHARDT

St. Louis Labor Council

I have much hope for the beneficial results which are possible to flow from the first real organized attempt of management and labor to look at their relationship in an unbiased fashion—to see ourselves as we really are, and to move to correct that which we don't like about our relationship.

We hear much about the "bad labor image" that this industrial area has inherited and which, apparently is engrained in the minds of important people around the country.

Just how true it is, whether it is greatly exaggerated, or whether it is, deliberately fostered in other areas, is not the business firms from moving here, or for any number of reasons, I sincerely don't know.

Admittedly, we have some undesirables in the labor movement—as we have had in business—people who are in power and have a tendency to throw their weight around, people who enjoyed the opportunity of perhaps being "rough guys" or "slick operators."

Undoubtedly, over the past years there were union officials, as there were management representatives, who may have conspired for their own special aggrandizement, but surely in the past we have had more than our share of detrimental publicity from overzealous news reports.

I would like, for example, to see a thorough, objective survey and study of the labor-management relationship in the years which existed over the past years in the metropolitan area, east side, west side and all around the town," to paraphrase Al Smith's theme song.

I say this even though I doubt if we could get an accurate composite of what really did happen because so many of the participants are dead or gone and they left no documentary

We strongly urge the Granite

City council to get behind the vigorous program desired by those of us who live in, and breathe the air in Granite City.

VETERAN MEATCUTTERS

ON STAFF OF GROCERY

To the Editor:

I recently read in your paper

where the Michel Brothers' grocery was terminating its business after 44 years of operation.

The same article said the store was strictly operated by family. I guess employee relations do not mean anything.

We had an employee, Joseph

Luzenski, who worked in that store for a period of 44 years and who was a member in continuous good standing in the Retail Clerks Union for the past 44 years.

Another employee, Sam Silex, was employed as a meatcutter for 14 years and is a member of the Meatcutters Union.

Just thought you might like to know that the above mentioned employees also had a major part in the operation of the Michel Brothers store.

Good luck to Mr. Silex in his new position with Kozak's market. I hope that all his former customers will pay him a visit.

but a series of economic, industrial and social revolutions, it is up to us to adapt ourselves to these changes insofar as they are constructive and just.

I believe we have the intelligence, the vision, the ability to work for a common goal, and that goal is to make what we call our metropolitan industrial area a better place to work in and to live in, geared to a bet-

All of us have a stake in the future of this enormously rich

Accounting Advice Improving

County Governmental Efficiency

Just as advice from accountants is helpful in running a private business, Madison county governmental offices and departments appear to be profiting from suggestions by an independent accounting firm.

Because proposals regarding their operations have been so frank and penetrating, some county officials may have "ruffled feathers," but we hope they do not try to retaliate. It is extremely helpful to taxpayers, if not always to the officials, to hear an evaluation of governmental efficiency and records from someone other than the government itself.

One of the pending recommendations describing considerable savings in the accounting system be established for all or most county offices.

Madison county records and procedures have shown significant improvement in recent months, and undoubtedly further gains can be made.

Since the cost of expert advice is usually far exceeded by the savings that it brings, it could be "penny wise and pound foolish" to curtail work of the accounting firm as an "economy" move.

center constructed by the Granite City park dis-the 300 block of Broadway has been such that it will be outstanding both in appearance and usefulness.

New Vocational Center Can Help

Community Meet Retraining Needs

Vocational schools should be given any assistance necessary in establishing a vocational education center at the Lincoln school building.

Just as has been doing in the Quad-Cities, this district, such equipment not only aids regular students but enables numerous adults to be trained or re-trained for available jobs.

It has been estimated that accelerated technology will require Americans to adapt to three, four or five different trades or skills during their lifetimes. The current plan by the Venice school district, shows that it hopes to aid

Quad-Citizens in keeping pace with this trend.

Perhaps all three local school districts should keep in touch with such planning by any of them, enabling duplication to be avoided and a fuller range of shops, laboratories and specialty-equipped classrooms to be offered within this community.

But you have help, too. Shell will send you to their Retail Training School free — show you how to run a profitable station.

Can you Qualify?
We'll want to ask you a number of questions, but these two are the most important:

- Do you agree that customer service is the most important factor in running a profitable station?

Natural gas comes in a pipe instead of a truck... make your connection early

Go underground before that fickle old furnace gets cold. You'll have no more stalled fuel deliveries. No more fuel line freeze-ups. Natural gas provides a faithful underground fuel supply on demand.

Conversion is really very easy. Your contractor can probably do the entire job in less than a day. Then your winter warm-up worries are over.

Please plan ahead. One nippy day will have contractors in demand all over town. Natural gas is a mighty popular fuel. Eight out of ten new homes heat with natural gas. Join the crowd... soon.

In Memoriam 33

In loving memory of THOMAS M. SKELTON, Sept. 19, 1968. Today recalls sad memories. Of a loved one gone to rest. Those who think of you today. Are the ones who love you best. What we would give to see you smile.

To sit with us and talk awhile. The blow was sudden, the shock severe. To part with one we loved so dear. We often sit and think of you. Things you used to say and do. We wonder why you had to die. Would a chance to say good-bye.

SIU-SW Waives ACT

For Artist-Students

Southern Illinois University's new vocational courses in painting and pottery being offered this fall ran into a snarl which has been untangled, according to Prof. Harry H. Hilberry, chairman of the art and design faculty, at the southwestern campus.

Some eager artists, he said, were told they had to qualify as regular students in order to register. "The standard qualifying test, American College Testing (ACT), looked formidable to many applicants who were long out of school and simply wanted to paint or to work in the University's splendid ceramic facility."

The ACT requirement has been waived for artists and craftsmen, stressed only in these courses.

The classes will meet on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6:30 to 8:30 in the Wagner Building. The first sessions begin Thursday, Sept. 21. Anyone from beginner to experienced craftsman is welcome, Hilberry said.

Boy Hit by Car
James A. Keeton, 2706 West 20th street, reported at 2:15 p.m. Thursday that two little boys ran out from behind a panel truck into the front of his auto on Niedringhaus avenue near Olive street. He said he applied his brakes, but the car pushed one boy down. The youngster was able to get up and walk away. Neither child was identified.

Parked Car Damaged
A parked car owned by Charles Harvey, St. Louis, was damaged about 2 a.m. Saturday when it was struck in left front in the 400 block of Second street. Police said, the other driver was Thurman Wilson of East St. Louis.

MINERVA READING CLUB STUDIES ART EDUCATION

Monthly meetings of the Minerva Reading club were resumed for the new club year of 1967-68 Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Helen Purkale, 1824 Second street.

Mrs. Shirley Rapoff, president, opened the meeting by leading the Lord's Prayer in unison. Other officers beginning their duties were Mrs. Georgia Waggoner, vice-president; Mrs. Mary Molitor, recording secretary; Mrs. Lenna Williams, treasurer; Mrs. Clova Howard, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Gladys Kitchoff, critic.

Mrs. Mary Stanfill, Mrs. Helen Daley, Mrs. Clova Taylor, Mrs. Bertie Weiss and the president prepared booklets for each member outlining a 6 month program.

Names were submitted for approval of new members.

Mrs. Sheila Watson, now teaching art in the Collinsville school system, was guest speaker. She discussed art in the kindergarten, stressing that each individual child has the ability to express himself. Each child wants to feel that his drawing is the best and works to achieve this, she noted.

Mrs. Watson next reviewed the creation of new ideas and the learning of art history in elementary grades, and said art education helps each individual understand the link between such fields as sciences, mathematics and history.

By the time a student has reached the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, art has a deep meaning and they learn to appreciate the materials and the art of other countries; fine arts are emphasized to junior high pupils, who are taught that art reflects the society we live in, she said. She closed with quotations on the subject.

The hostess and co-hosts, Mrs. Gladys Kitchoff and Mrs. Clemmie Rice, served refreshments to those mentioned and Mrs. Anna Echols, Mrs. Georgia Harlow, Mrs. Robert Kolas and a guest, Miss Howard.

The table was adorned with a floral arrangement of fresh snapdragons.

The October meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Helen Daley, 4174 Madison avenue, with David Morgan as guest speaker on "Youth in Your Community."

Alaska-Canada Motor Tour Covers 10,300 Miles -- Including 2-Day Ride on Ferry

By ANDREW WILSON

Henry D. Karandjeff, chairman of the board at the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, likes life on the open road. Last week he returned from a 10,300-mile, 31-day car trip to the northwestern area of the U. S., including a two-week sojourn into Alaska.

Karandjeff took the trip with an old friend and former Granite Cityan, Carl Erickson, who now lives in Florida. They had talked about and planned for the trip for several years, and this summer seemed like an especially good time to go because Alaska's centennial celebrations (Alaska was purchased from the Russians in 1867) were in full swing.

But the centennial festivities were really only an added incentive for the two men. "We wanted to see Alaska most of all, because here was a distant and rugged land acquired by the U. S. It is our country's last frontier and the trip seemed like an adventuresome proposition," Karandjeff commented.

Zig Zag Ferry Ride
Karandjeff and Erickson drove north to Minneapolis and west on Highway 18 to Prince Rupert, B. C., then southward to town, on the first leg of their journey. They boarded a ferry boat there which took them and their car on the "inside passage" to Haines, Alaska, which zig-zags between the numerous island mountains and tidal glaciers off the coast.

The scenery was the most exhilarating he had ever seen in his life, Karandjeff remarked. "You just can't describe it. You must see it yourself to appreciate how truly magnificent it is."

The ferry boat ride lasted two days and a night. There were no roads the men might have taken to get from Prince Rupert to Haines, a distance of approximately 400 miles. Because the traffic north was heavy at the time and they had not obtained state rooms on the ferry and had to sleep bunched up in blankets on deck chairs.

While this may have bothered some men, it didn't phase Karandjeff. "The temperature at night never dropped much below 50 degrees, and we had the best view," he said.

Fairbanks was their next destination point, but Karandjeff and Erickson had to bypass the city because it was closed by heavy rains at the time and had been evacuated. They then drove to Anchorage, the largest city in the state, and then to Seward, named after secretary of state William Seward, who arranged the purchase of Alaska and the only port in the state open to Alaska.

Karandjeff had passed his 8 and weighed nine pounds, seven ounces.

ALASKA-CANADA TRAVELLER, H. D. Karandjeff, local banker, was impressed on the 10,300 mile motor trip with the beauty of Canada and here is shown at a quarry wall overlooking the city of Vancouver.

spare moments in the car, when he was not driving or admiring the scenery, reading the history of Alaska. For him, Alaska offers live evidence of America's frontier spirit. He saw Secretary of State Seward, however, as one of history's least understood figures.

Contrary to popular opinion, he said, Seward was not primarily interested in Alaska's potential physical or mineral resources. It is now generally accepted by historians that Seward was an aggressive far-sighted diplomat and not a canny land prospector; he saw Alaska as a natural base to expand our country's interests in the Pacific and he correctly foresaw that in the future we would need such bases to compete with Russia for influence in Asia, according to Karandjeff.

Alaska Purchase
Seward also negotiated treaties for purchase of the Isthmus Canal Zone, the Virgin Islands, Hawaii, Iceland and Greenland, but he did this at a time when the U. S. had just completed its Westward expansion and was no longer interested in obtaining more land, especially if far away. Congress would only ratify his treaties for Alaska and the Mississippi, and these passed only narrowly.

According to Karandjeff's research high school text books and the like miss the essential point about Seward when they focus on how economically profitable "Seward's Folly" was. The purchase of Alaska from the Russians for seven million dollars or 2 cents an acre—had a bitter enemy of Seward's, Senator Sumner, championed the purchase.

States and stopped along the way to see other points of interest. Karandjeff's future travel plans include returning to Alaska. Rev. Baumann Gives Talk on Germany

Highlights of his early summer trip to Germany were given by Rev. Dr. Robert J. Baumann, pastor of St. Peter United Church of Christ, who spoke to Granite City Optimists members at their luncheon meeting Thursday afternoon in the YMCA.

The local minister, who spent a month in Germany as part of an annual exchange program between American and German ministers, illustrated his talk with color slides. He described various experiences he had encountered while spending a week with a German parish minister.

While in Germany, Dr. Baumann said he joined other American pastors on the tour to study the relationship of the church to the country's growing urbanization, theological education programs and the relationship of the church and state.

The minister said the exchange program is sponsored by the denomination's Council for Church and Ministry. In Europe, the American pastors were guests of the Evangelical Church of the Union, a major Protestant church in Germany.

Twenty-three persons attended the luncheon meeting, including Rev. Dr. A. Ralph Lynn, who was a guest of Henry D. Karandjoff, Edward Stone, program chairman, introduced Rev. Baumann.
